

FUZZ & DITTO

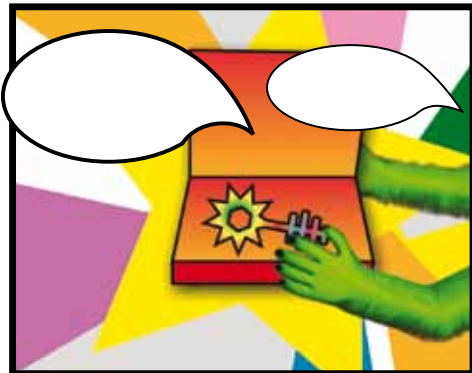

Read the story below. The speech bubbles are blank, can you fill them in?

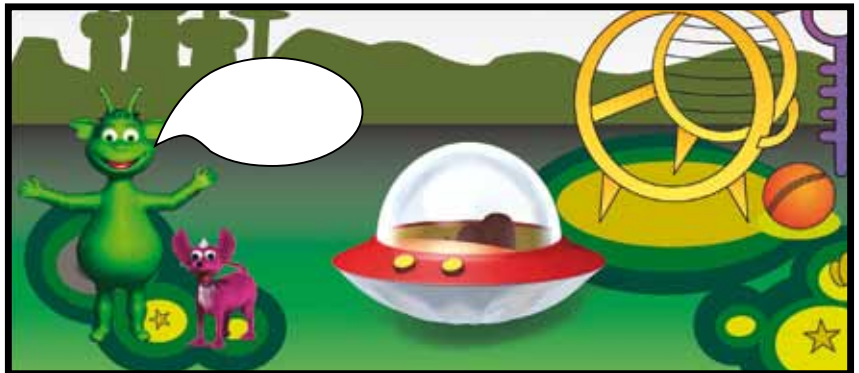

Fuzz, a little Zooter, from the planet Zoot was up bright and early doing what he loved best – eating space cake!

Ditto, Fuzz's small pink spacedog appeared at the kitchen door, to let Fuzz know he was awake and hungry. Breakfast meant spacecake for him too!

Just then, Fuzz's Mom and Dad walked in with his present in a beautiful shiny box. Unable to contain his excitement, Fuzz lifted the lid. He gasped as he saw a little rainbow coloured key. Could it be the key to a space-ship?

Fuzz raced out of the front door and sure enough, there it stood, his very own 'Fuzz-sized' spaceship. He'd had loads of practice in his Dad's turbo-charged spaceship, so he knew how to fly. Fuzz thanked his parents for the wonderful gift. Then he and Ditto jumped excitedly aboard and waved good bye. Whoopy!

The duo raced through space passing interesting planets along the way. Suddenly Fuzz was overcome by an adventurous urge - to leave his galaxy!!! So taking a deep breath, he slipped into the next wormhole. They burst out near a blue and green planet.

Deciding to take a closer look, Fuzz zoomed towards the Earth and landed the space-ship on a patch of green grass. A group of amazed children watched as the two strange creatures came out of the spaceship. Fuzz fiddled with the knobs on the box on his chest, he started speaking English to the children. He told them ...

Be School Ready on the PC with the Fuzz and Ditto range

We have five copies each of Fuzz and Ditto on Safari and Fuzz and Ditto at the Sea to giveaway.

Complete the activity above, send it to us at: ReadRight / Fuzz and Ditto! PO Box 1654, Saxonwold, 2132. Please remember to include your first name, surname, age, cellphone number and address.

Winners will be contacted telephonically. Competition closes January 14 2011.

Visit the Edutain website at www.edutain.co.za for more information on these (and other) great products.

Be SCHOOL READY